Test Information (Score / % Below)

Most Recent Appointment Number With Reportable Scores:
For the Quantitative, Verbal, Total and Analytical Writing sections, the percentages shown below represent the proportion of test taken in the previous three years with reported scores lower than this score. The percentage shown below for the new Integrated Reasoning section represents the proportion of IRT tests taken so far with reported scores lower than this score. This percentage is updated monthly for the first six months and annually thereafter. To view the most recent percentile table, please visit gmac.com.

AWA scores for tests taken prior to June 5, 2012, were based on the test taker's response to two essays: Analysis of an Issue and Analysis of an Argument. AWA scores taken on or after June 5, 2012, are based on the test taker's response to only one essay: Analysis of an Argument.

- C (Self canceled)—Test taker voluntarily canceled the score on the day of the test.

- (Not available) —Score is missing because the GMAT did not include an Integrated Reasoning section prior to June 5, 2012.

- P (Policy Violation)—GMAC canceled the score due to a testing violation by the test taker. Policy violation for purposes of this identifier includes improperly accessing a mobile phone or study materials, disruptive behavior that interfered with other test takers or test center personnel or noncompliance with any term or condition in the GMAT Handbook, the GMAT Examination Testing Rules and Agreement, or the GMAT Non-Disclosure Agreement and General Terms of Use Statement, other than incidents which are characterized as "serious violations," as defined at right.

- T (Testing issue)—GMAC canceled the score due to an issue that affected the administration of the test. Examples include, but are not limited to, administrative errors, equipment problems, issues related to registration or payment, and disruptions caused by illness, natural disasters or other emergencies.

- S (Serious violation)—GMAC canceled the score because of a discrepancy in, or falsification of, a test taker's identification; improper access to or any disclosure of test content prior to, during, or after the test administration; proxy testing; or falsification of score reports. (The use of "serious violations" for this purpose is not intended to minimize the significance or seriousness of other violations of GMAT testing rules.)
